

From the Interim Pastor

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

Do not remember the former things, or consider the things of old. I am about to do a new thing' now it springs forth, do you not perceive it? Isaiah 43:18-19

Are you familiar with those reality clean-house TV shows, where a team of experts helps a family cope with their clutter? Maybe you've seen an episode where the professional organizer spends as much time helping a person understand their attachment to things as he or she does reorganizing them. When organizers on "Clean Sweep" or "Enough, Already!" try to help people organize, their first step is to clear everything out of the room and spend time sorting it into piles of things they will keep, things they will donate or sell, and things they will let go of.

I was reflecting on how congregations (not just St. Luke's) are going through a similar sorting process. While God's mission and Christ's presence with us haven't changed, we are being challenged to clean out the ecclesiastical attics and the basements and the drawers and closets to make room for the new treasures God is giving us.

During this interim process we are being asked to imagine three slightly different sorting piles – the treasures we want to keep central in our life as a Christian community, the gifts and resources we can share with others, and the things that it is time to let go of (or at least set aside.)

"Do not remember the former things, or consider the things of old." The prophet Isaiah wrote these words to the people of Israel when they were in exile and bondage in Babylon. They yearned for their familiar way of life and comfortable rituals of faith. Isaiah called God's people to not limit their vision to their current situation, but to trust in God's power to make all things "new". What does Isaiah say that has significance for us today? The prophet Isaiah doesn't tell us to reject everything old and embrace newness for its own sake. It is important to have living and shared memories in order to inform the present. But Isaiah's words caution us not to be so focused on looking back that we can't see what God is doing right in front of us.

"I am about to do a new thing; now it springs forth, do you not perceive it?" Isaiah's message invites us to be on the lookout for what God is doing – not just in our own lives and in our life together at St. Luke's, but in the neighborhood and organizations around us.

May our eyes be opened to see what "new thing" God is doing in our midst.

Blessings on the Journey, Pastor Kris

SUNDAY SCHOOL YEAR 2015-2016!

Our Sunday School year started off with great activities at our Rally Day event at the Church Summer Picnic at Upper Providence Park! We will continue with our Sunday School schedule this year on the third Sunday of each month, beginning with the Children's Sermon during the service. We will then gather for some awesome activities for all youth in our Sunday School room or Moyer Hall. On October 18, our gathering will be focused on the music we hear in church. We hope you can join us!

WORSHIP NEWS

At the September 8th meeting church Council voted to combine the Contemporary and Traditional Services into one Blended Service to be held at 9:30am. Stewardship of human resources, a drop in attendance and financial considerations were topics for discussion in this discernment process. This decision will be re-evaluated in the new year.

WORLD COMMUNION SUNDAY: Why We Do It and How

This coming October 4, congregations around the globe will celebrate World Communion Sunday. Many have heard about this day, but may not know much about where the day originated. World Communion Sunday began in 1936 in the Presbyterian Church and was adopted by the Federal Council of Churches in 1940. Since then, the celebration has grown into an international ecumenical celebration.

The key word for World Communion Sunday is communion, or unity. It is a day when we mark the universal Christian practice of breaking bread with one another and remembering both the night of Jesus' betrayal – when Jesus instituted what we now call the Lord's Supper as a lasting remembrance – and of Jesus' sacrifice.

World Communion Sunday is a time for remembering that around the globe the Lord's Supper is celebrated in different languages, with different traditions and customs and in various forms of liturgy. It is both a joyous and meaningful partaking in Jesus' sacred meal with his friends and a reminder of our unity with other Christians throughout the world.

BLESSING OF THE ANIMALS October 4, 2015 AT 2 PM

To commemorate the Feast Day of St. Francis (October 4) there will be a Blessing of the Animals on Sunday, October 4th at 2 pm on the back lawn at St. Luke's. All of God's – dogs, cats, gerbils, hamsters, lizards, and other pets (real or stuffed) are welcome. There will be special treats for our "friends" and refreshments for their two legged companions. Francis was the son of a wealthy cloth merchant in Italy born in the 12th century. In a public confrontation with his father, he renounced his wealth and future inheritance and devoted himself to serving the poor. Francis had a spirit of gladness and gratitude for all God's creation. He is the patron saint of ecology. Many of the stories that surround Francis's life tell of his great love for animals and the environment.

RADICAL WELCOME SEMINAR

Just what is radical welcome? Most people hear the term and think it's about having a warm, dependable welcome at the door of the sanctuary and a really good cup of coffee and snacks in the church hall. Radical welcome is the spiritual practice of embracing and being changed by the gifts, presence, and voices of "The Other"- the people left out of our churches.

Rev. Stephanie Spellers, an Episcopal priest and consultant on reimaging the mainline church and embracing new mission contexts will lead this seminar. It will take place on October 20 from 9 am - 3 pm at the Hampton Inn and Suites in Oaks. Cost for the seminar is $20 and registration can be made online at psec.org

WALKING WITH GOD RETREAT

The theme for this year's Walking with God Retreat is "The Beauty of Darkness . . . and Light." The retreat will be held Oct 23-25 at Mariawald Renewal Center in Reading. Registration begins at 4 pm on Oct 23. Workshops include Bible Study, Poetry, Creative Art, and Movement. There will be free time for massage, hiking, resting, and fellowship. Cost for the entire weekend is $165; one overnight is $140; a Saturday commuter is $70. Registration can be made online at pseco.org before October 9.

CROP WALK

As you take each step in the CROP Hunger Walk, imagine that you're in Kenya, walking to get water that you'll carry back home in a 5-gallon jug balanced on your head. Your family needs this water for drinking, bathing, preparing meals or watering the garden of livestock. Whatever the reason, 5-gallons of water weighs about 42 pounds, and you may have to walk miles to get it. CROP Hunger Walks help Church World Service work with communities to determine the best solution to their challenges. It could be a sand dam to help provide water. Micronutrient packets to feed children. Or tools and seeds to help keep a family fed and healthy. The Collegeville-Trappe Ministerium CROP Walk will take place on October 11, 2015. Registration begins at 12:30pm at Trinity UCC in Collegeville. Donation envelopes are in the Narthex. Thank you for helping and hungerone step at a time!

WELCOME TO WOMEN'S BIBLE STUDY

On October 27th we will begin meeting every second and fourth Tuesday of the month from 9:30am to 11:00am. We will be studying the New Testament Book of Hebrews. This Book is about Faith—God's faithfulness to us in giving us God's Son and our faithful response of looking to Jesus.

We will study this marvelous portrait of Jesus Christ as seen through the lens of the Old Testament. We will be encouraged and reassured that Jesus is truly the Way, the Truth and the Life. Come and bring a friend and join us as we open our hearts and minds and study God's Word together and as we enjoy coffee, snacks, good discussions and fellowship. If you have questions, please call me at 610-489-9770. Beverly Spaid

IF JESUS CAME TO TOWN

Did you ever wonder how folks fund out about Jesus and his ministry in biblical times? The Bible is full of stories of crowds that formed when Jesus was in a particular setting. How did everybody hear about his presence? Fast forward to today. If Jesus were to appear today here in Trappe at St. Luke's how would people be notified? How would people find out about the presence of the Risen Christ?

In today's world, information can spread in seconds. Recently Pastor Kris, Bob Keyser and Nancy Leneweaver attended a seminar sponsored by the PSEC on Social Media. The main presentation included ways in which churches can use the technology of today — Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, to spread the news of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the ministry God's Holy Spirit is doing through the church.

Fully two-thirds of American adults are active in social networking communities. Nearly 100% of teens are actively online and 80% regularly use social networking sites. The bulk of both teens and adults use their digital participation as a vital and vibrant part of their relationships with friends and families. Digital engagement is the reality of human experience in America and in most of the world.

Very much at the center of the challenges facing the church is the challenge of communicating what the Gospel means—with new generations of seekers and believers. If you would be interested in being part of a discussion on how to incorporate social media into the life of the community, see Pastor Kris.
